

“Nichterini Zoi” That’s how we Greeks say, “Nightlife.”

Athens is a cosmopolitan city famous for its nightlife. There are several districts that Greeks frequent regularly to have a great time. When you are in Athens, we suggest heading out to these parts of town to have a taste of our nichterini zoi.

SOUTHERN ATHENS - This area of town is closest to the conference hotel. Clubs and bars that hug the coastline of the Athenian Riviera become especially packed in the thick of the summer. Famous Greek singers headline at “bouzoukia” that line Vouliagmenis and Posidonos Avenue.

Glyfada – This upscale waterfront neighborhood is known for its large pedestrian area full of bars, clubs and restaurants.

Microlimano – This charming yacht and fishing boat harbor is located near Pireaus, where the city’s largest port has been located since ancient times. Greeks gather at Microlimano’s bars. Cafes, restaurants and traditional tavernas for a special view of the sea and the surrounding islands.

CENTRAL ATHENS – These areas are closest to the Acropolis and some venues offer the most amazing night time views of the city.

Kolonaki - Arguably one of the most posh districts in Athens, Kolonaki is known for its hip, young and trendy crowd that hit the bars along Skoufa Avenue and near the main square.

Gazi – Gazi has solidified itself as latest nightlife hotspot of the center of the city. During the weekends the streets are packed with people. The district is famous for its lively gay district, clubs that require reservations as well as rock bars and Greek restaurants.

NORTHERN ATHENS – Tucked away towards the north of Athens are several well-known suburbs where Greeks go to have a good time.

Erithrea/Kefalari – The area just north of Kifissia you’ll find a square full of trendy bars and dance clubs. On a warm night there are well-heeled crowds making their way from place to place.

Psychico – This leafy suburban neighborhood, known for its gated homes and embassy residences has its share of posh bars and club/restaurants.
