On Thursday, Dec. 8, 2010, the Hellenic Swedish Chamber of Commerce organized its annual event at Athens Ledra Marriott Hotel, which was a great success.

Many distinguished persons from the business and public sector, as well as Diplomats and Presidents of other Chambers were present.

Main speaker at this event was Mr. Panagiotis Gennimatas, Honorary Vice Chairman of the European Investment Bank, on the subject "European and Greek financial crisis: The double aspect of the same problem".

Mr. Konstantinos Marinakis, President of the Chamber, in his start speech addressed the official guests and all the participants as follows:
Your Excellences Messrs Ambassadors, Commercial Counsellors and Presidents of the Chambers and Organizations, dear Members of the Hellenic-Swedish Chamber,

Ladies and Gentlemen I am especially happy with the presence of you all at the annual grand event of our Chamber. The Hellenic-Swedish Chamber has completed this year 20 years of continuous existence in Greece ever since it was founded in 1991. Throughout these times, not only it has achieved to be included among the 10 largest two-party chambers in our country with considerable and increasingly improved services and activities, but also has acquired economic sufficiency and convenience so that it can carry off unimpeded the goals for the accomplishment of which it has been founded.

The President of the Chamber,
Mr. Konstantinos Marinakis

The awarded Members of HSCC

In the following, Mr. Marinakis extended his warmest thanks to all members of the previous Boards of Directors for their hard and good work they have done, to all the Chamber Members and especially the 18 Sustaining Members, without the participation and support of which, it would have been impossible for the Chamber to have the results it has achieved, as he said.
